

DEALING WITH FAILURE

The objective is to think about how you felt once in order to better understand the situation of your child when the decision regarding the choice of school or career is difficult.

Exercise:

Try to find an honest answer to the following questions:

1. Have you ever suffered a failure at school?
2. How did your parents respond to this failure?
3. How did you feel about their reaction?
4. What helped you to deal better with failures?
5. How do you respond to your child's failures?
6. Do you think that your response helps the child to accept failures?
7. What are you satisfied about and what would you like to change?
